At the same time only money rates and a weaker tendency in the sterling exchange marked calcouraging decreased estimates of the amount of gold to be shipped to Europe, were factors in the speculation. The emitment, revails in the street that a more or less definite understanding remains regarding the treasury measures between the administration and powerful banking interests. Late in the day rumors were current that bressure was being brought to bear upon the president and Secretary Carlisle to have the interest of these ter subscriptions named in the bond call abridged. The first jutch of blank application forms for subscription to the new bonds was received at the New York sub-treasury and was quiesly exhausted Requests for an additional supply of blanks were forms decided to Washington. For obvious reasons definite information regarding the extent of subscriptions to remain endance of the polycoops is not obtainable. Almost without exception, however, Wall street men believe that inability on the part of the babble to secure gold to pay for any considerable proportion of the Polycoops lesse of bonds will campel the freasury to avail itself or the syndicate's assistance. It is also generally bedieved that this assistance will be for the chosing of the government lean will not exceed about one-sixth of the free gold now held by the treasury. Transport to the Mississippi to divert tidal action by old style work, which will be supplanted in future by the Railway and Dock Construction company's system. Four million dollars has already been expended on the two immense jettles in the hay of Galveston; they are simply loose rock dumped in the water, forming a pyramid 100 feet wide at the bottom, tapering to 15 feet at the top above the water. Each jettly is about 4½ miles long. The Railway and Dock Construction company build indestructible jettles of same size at the bottom as the top and save this enormous waste of stone and labor. In addition to all these vast earnings the plans of the R. & D. C. Co. call for an expenditure of about $10,000,000 to deepen the channel at Sandy Hook. The United States government can well afford to spend this sum to benefit the vast commercial interests of the port of New York.

They are, perhaps better able to judge than others, because 373 railway companies are now preparing to build 20.547 miles of new line. Three thousand miles are now being graded or are under contract; the great superiority of the Railway and Dock Construction company's patent pile in solid, substantial, indestructible trestle work is causing the demand in this special field.

There is also an immense demand for indestructible piles in the construction of piers, jettles, docks, bulkheads, breakwaters, foundations for bridge pilers, etc.
